Mastif's third release on Black Hoe (the first two were released on the free Black Hoe Recordings: BH017 and BH027) is a masterpiece! World created by Universal Project and Vicious Circle raises: rolling drum sequences, heavy and twisty subbasses, mentasm sounds and other frightening voices feature all of these two tunes called 'Space Outpost' and 'Warcraft'.

Who is Mastif?

In the beginning of the 90's Attila Molnar aka Stealth aka Mastif from Veszprem, Hungary was listening to death metal, grindcore and stuffs like that and appeared metal bands as a singer. Around 1998 he discovered a brand new and fresh style of music what was called drum'n'bass. Among other things Roni Size's New Forms can be named as an inspiration of that time. With Size Nine from Veszprem also founded the Destroyerz brigade and became one of the first dj's playing the harder side of drum'n'bass in Hungary (their sound can be characterized with depressive spirit of the early industrial Hardware, Tech Itch and Audio Couture stuffs). From 2000 Destroyerz became the member of Bladerunnaz (the biggest Hungarian promoter group) and playing with all the best and well-known dj's like Andy C, Tech Itch, Dylan, Friction, Die, Twisted Individual, Counterstrike, Bad Company, Universal Project, Hive, Keaton, Loxy, Ink, Dom and Roland, Spl just to name a few. Mastif began writing music around 2000, skinny and funereal pieces were born under the alias of Troops Of Doom. The Undead and The Event Horizon arised around 2004 and finally come out on Black Hoe! Nowadays Mastif's favourite producers are Universal Project, Vicious Circle, Loxy and Ink and the new Horsemen brigade and Digital and Spirit. He is collaborating with Mindscape assiduously (Minefield was released on Citrus, Hijacker is signed up for DSCI4).
